

2009 ANN AGM – Board of Directors Nominations

At the 2009 Australian Nappy Network Annual General Meeting we will be moving to receive, consider and adopt the nominated directors, Natasha Leslie & Kira Jessup. Please read below to find out more about these two candidates.

Natasha Leslie

Natasha has been a cloth user for nearly 20 years from terry cloth to MCN's. Trained in electronics and IT she has also been in a variety of business administration/management roles in the past and has been a member of various professional boards. She is now focusing on her being a stay at home mum and cloth advocate in SA, and has been working to redevelop the ANN website and will be taking on the role of ANN Webmaster.

Kira Jessup

is a former Biomedical Scientist, now stay at home mum to two beautiful kids; a little boy and girl. She is married to an Environmental Engineer and they are both very conscious of the impacts their decisions will have on the future of our children. For them, the environmental and health benefits of reusable nappies were their main reason for choosing to put both our kids in them from birth. The fact that they also saved money and were adorable were an added bonus. After the birth of their daughter, she wanted to start becoming more involved in the advocacy side of reusable nappies. She has become dismayed at peoples willingness to become a "throw-away" society and she wants to help implement a positive change for the future. Thus Kira took on the role of National Reusable Nappy Week Coordinator for 2009 and has also been actively working to engage volunteers to assist in the many roles that need to be filled to keep the ANN cogs turning.
